Greek Column Vase

HKLiving

- The vase is part of HKLiving's collection that draws inspiration from ancient Greek styles, particularly the iconic column designs such as Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian.
- It features a minimalist and sleek design, making it suitable for both modern and traditional interiors.
- The vase is crafted from stoneware, a durable material that gives it a timeless and elegant look.

Sella Curulis

sashaxsasha

This design draws inspiration from the sella curulis, a folding chair that symbolized power and authority used by high-ranking politicians and administrative officials in Ancient Rome. Designed by Paris-based designer Sashaxsasha, this modern interpretation is crafted from stainless steel and functions as both a stool and a podium. Its design combines the iconic forms of Ancient Rome with a nostalgic touch and contemporary aesthetics.

Wabi Sabi Ceramics

The wabi-sabi aesthetic, which emerged during the Muromachi period, celebrates imperfection and transience. Contemporary ceramic artists create pieces that embrace these principles, offering tableware and decorative items with organic forms and natural glazes.

Chanel Métiers d'Art “Paris-Byzance” Karl Lagerfeld

This design is part of Chanel's Pre-Fall 2011 Métiers d'Art “Paris-Byzance” collection, created under the direction of Karl Lagerfeld. The collection was inspired by the opulence and artistry of the Byzantine Empire, particularly the mosaics of Empress Theodora found in the Basilica of San Vitale in Ravenna, Italy.

Versace Heritage Baroque-Print Silk Minidress

It is a luxurious garment that showcases Versace's iconic baroque pattern, first introduced in the late 1980s. This black and gold-tone silk dress features a twill weave with a baroque-pattern print and contrasting trim. It includes a pointed flat collar, concealed front button fastening, long sleeves with buttoned cuffs, and a belted waist that accentuates the flared skirt.

MOM Dutch Style by Baroque Collection Mirror

Baroque Mirror draws inspiration from Dutch Baroque design, evident in its ornate wooden frame and intricate detailing. This style emerged in the late 16th and early 17th centuries in the Netherlands, characterized by elaborate decorations, dramatic contrasts, and a focus on grandeur.

Gucci Resort 2018 Collection Alessandro Michele

Michele drew heavily from Renaissance portraiture and Florentine art, incorporating intricate bead detailing and opulent fabrics reminiscent of the era. The collection featured references to Renaissance portraiture, with bead detailing inspired by artworks like Leonardo da Vinci's "Lady with an Ermine."
